Pengelly Challenge:

Requires the team to solve a number of exercises and tasks before navigating their way to a hidden prize. The exercise is based at the Pengelly Centre at Buckfastleigh. This challenge is good for team building, but is more involved for the team leader because this role is not rotated, but remains with the same person throughout the challenge.

Residential Courses

Choose from the list of activities and challenges you require during the course. There is also a choice of accommodation available, from moorland hotels to bunkhouses of varying standards. Course duration can be between 2 and 5 days, during the week or at weekends.

Development Training

Team Building • Leadership • Communication

Our courses are designed to be informative and interesting but also fun and exciting. Participants can gain a sense of personal achievement and develop teamwork, leadership and communication skills. The outdoors is a stimulating and safe environment where decisions and actions are distanced from the workplace. Job related knowledge and ability no longer decide results and participants see the effects of their actions and behaviour clearly. By introducing participants to a series of short structured tasks, teams can discuss their achievements in review sessions following the activities and can then reflect on their performance.

Day Courses

Our challenges days involve solving many different types of problems, with the overall objective of finding a hidden prize. These training days enable teams to work on group skills and allow participants the opportunity to practice leadership.

Dewerstone Challenge:

To complete this challenge, teams navigate through a series of locations. At each location the team must complete a task before obtaining a clue that will lead them to the next task. After completing the last task the team find a hidden prize.

This day is mainly team orientated but with a chance for all the participants to practice leadership, because this role is rotated around the team during the day. This also makes The Dewerstone Challenge a good one off team building day. Adventure activities inclusive in the day are Climbing (or Abseiling) and a River Crossing Exercise.

Prince's Trust

Residential Activities Courses

Devon Adventure Training have been providing Prince's Trust Adventure Activity Development Training Courses since 1990. Working closely with Delivery Partners, our courses have evolved to allow Volunteers the opportunity to gain a sense of personal achievement, form a strong team and develop skills that are relevant to present or future workplaces.

During the course regular reviewing takes place, looking at the groups leadership, teamwork and communication skills. Essential leadership techniques such as Task Management and Project Management are also discussed and explained.

There is a range of bunkhouse style accommodation available on and around Dartmoor. Depending on your requirements and availability these can be booked for you.

Courses are normally 5 days, self-catered and residential. All our courses can be adapted to fit your requirements.

Devon Adventure Training is a Licensed Minibus Operator and can legally supply transport for groups in our 16 passenger minibuses.

adventure activities. Devon Adventure Training has been providing Adventure Activities since 1990. We have a small team of qualified, motivated and experienced staff, who all work to National Governing Body guidelines. Our activities are challenging, fun and exciting, allowing participants to gain a sense of personal achievement, in a completely safe environment.

caving. Crawling and squeezing through the underground world of Devon caves is an exciting and interesting adventure.

gorge scrambling. Climbing up waterfalls, dropping into plunge pools and battling against the flow are all part of the fun.

climbing. Dartmoor offers an excellent location for climbing and abseiling. There are many classic climbs and after some training you can experience the thrill of abseiling.

canoeing & rafting. Building a raft that will stay together and learning how to get that canoe to go in a straight line make for a challenging day with plenty of fun splashed in!

Devon Adventure Training has been inspected by The Adventure Activities Licensing Authority (01222 755715) and is licensed to provide the following specified activities: Canoeing, Climbing, Abseiling, Gorge Scrambling, Hill Walking and Caving. AALA Licence No: L0044/R0280.

abseiling. Experience the thrill of abseiling on some of the beautiful granite crags around Dartmoor.
